1. Foreword

Article 43 of the PCE Rules provides that, for the purpose of conducting technical adequacy verifications, the requests for recording schedules shall be ranked by price and, if they have the same price, in accordance with the criteria laid down in the Dispatching Rules. If, by applying the above-mentioned criteria, the submitted schedules have the same priority, then their priority order shall be determined in accordance with the modalities set out in the Technical Rules.

2. Priority order

If, after applying the priority criteria referred to in Article 43, paras. 43.1 and 43.2 of the PCE Rules, the submitted schedules have the same priority, they will be ranked in order of time of receipt of the requests for recording schedules by the PCE information system.

If a request for recording has been submitted via an XML file and such request specifies multiple schedules and if, by applying the criteria referred to in Article 43, paras. 43.1 and 43.2 of the PCE Rules, such schedules have the same priority, they will be ranked in the order in which they have been specified in the same file.
